| 2 | 18000 turned up for Gillingham game, not seen again - I couldn't get a ticket! | 10/28/2014 6:02 AM |
| 3 | Hard to get to if you don't drive. | 10/27/2014 6:34 AM |
| 4 | I have been to all games | 10/27/2014 6:30 AM |
| 5 | I will be attending more matches going forward starting this weekend! | 10/23/2014 11:16 AM |
| 6 | Lack of ambition by club owners. | 10/23/2014 10:37 AM |
| 7 | I live too far away to attend evening matches and work . I will be going to matches over Christmas | 10/23/2014 6:25 AM |
| 8 | I have attended all the matches but have commented because that is what I feel | 10/23/2014 3:30 AM |
| 9 | I have found that the time at Northampton has weakened my 'link' with the club - but I am an immigrant that chooses to support my local team, it is not in my blood ... so I guess I am not your standard fan. | 10/23/2014 2:05 AM |
| 10 | For the first game back, the club prioritised tickets for the unemployed, the elderly and students. Working 40 miles away made it difficult to get a ticket. Going to that game might have encouraged me to keep going, or get a season ticket like I used to. | 10/22/2014 11:21 PM |
| 11 | I live in the North West and tried for days to obtain disabled access with no success. I cannot afford to travel to Coventry on the off-chance that I might gain access. | 10/22/2014 4:14 PM |
| 12 | I always had a season ticket but don't live local anymore. What Coventry fans need to realise is that lack of support when playing at Northampton has destroyed this club for many years. We had to sell our best players due to lack of attendance and lack of revenue. I went to Crewe / Rochdale / Oldham and it's heartbreaking to watch a team that lacks any passion / skill and ability. We will get relegated; and that's sad. No business person will buy this club as we don't own our ground and not a viable business to purchase. It's very sad, and how much longer the actual club can actual stay in business itself remains a worry too, as it's clear we don't have a profitable model. Sorry to be negative but the truth needs to be told. | 10/22/2014 2:20 PM |
| 13 | I live in Dublin and usally only get to a coventry game mayb twice a season. | 10/22/2014 2:15 PM |
| 14 | Fed up with bad news, the team aren't playing well but the continuing off the field antics of both the club owners and the council hasn't helped. | 10/22/2014 12:15 PM |
| 15 | I live out of the City, have a young family, and cannot justify the cost in terms of time and money to watch City at home - especially at the Ricoh. I've been to some away games but having previously held a season ticket for 20 years and done a number of seasons without missing a game home or away, I just find professional football utterly dispiriting at the moment. Over £20 plus 100 miles of petrol to watch that dross. Not at the moment. | 10/22/2014 12:05 PM |
| 16 | I have actually attended 3 games.. gillingham, preston and bristol city | 10/22/2014 11:18 AM |
| 17 | I will not support the club again until SISU go. | 10/22/2014 9:38 AM |
| 18 | Would have been more however before we moved back home I had made other arrangements with 'she who must be obeyed'. I will be going to all home again games in the New Year. | 10/22/2014 9:34 AM |
| 19 | I had arranged things prior to the return to the Ricoh being announced. | 10/22/2014 8:46 AM |
| 20 | I am now retired and am living with my wife in North Cyprus. You can take me away from the city, but after 60years you cannot take the city away from me ! We will be at the Ricoh when we can to support the sky blues. They may be playing shite but they are our shite ! | 10/22/2014 8:12 AM |

| 21 | I had a CCFC season ticket for years and had 3 childrens tickets as well. I feared that when the club moved to Northampton we would get out of a routine of going to home matches and this is what has happened. Home matches are no longer our priority on a Saturday. Purchasing tickets is difficult - it took me 3 hours to buy Gillingham tickets - although we will go from time to time because we like going to football. I am unlikely to go back on a regular basis until the ownership changes. In my view, SISU have systematically asset stripped the club and the clearest evidence of this is on the pitch. Any player of any value is sold or their contracts not renewed. Last year's team 'punched above their weight' and over achieved, so to strip the spine of the team - Goal Kepper (Murphy), Right Back (Cyrus), Left Back (Adams), Mid-Field (Baker, Moussa), Forwards (Wilson, Clarke) - is a scandal. The most fascinating thing is that anybody is surprised that the team is now struggling. The scandal is of course clouded in all the nonsense of the triumphant return to the Ricoh and Wasps saga. We should never forget that the owners have wrecked the team year after year and reduced it to the standard of League 2 or possibly lower, but we all do. | 10/22/2014 4:22 AM |
| 22 | Overall cost of attending too high combined with long drive. Don't attend many games but wanted to show support, lift shared for this journey, low ticket price a factor but would have attended anyway. | 10/22/2014 4:13 AM |
| 23 | I will not go back to the Ricoh so long as that Hedge Fund owns the club. SISU has destroyed the club I have supported for over 50 years. | 10/22/2014 3:04 AM |
| 24 | I live in Devon and pick and choose what matches i attend i do however try to go to convenient away games Bristol yovil swindon games easy to get to | 10/22/2014 2:57 AM |
| 25 | I travel from Ireland once a year for a game. Too costly to travel frequently, i.e. Air fare, Exchange Rate, Accommodation, Spending Money, etc. | 10/22/2014 2:20 AM |
| 26 | got season ticket at Cov rugby | 10/22/2014 2:06 AM |
| 27 | I object to the conduct of Coventry City Council. | 10/22/2014 1:49 AM |
| 28 | I travel from the south coast for games, I did not buy a season ticket for 2012/2013 as i was unsure if i would be able to get to all games but i actually attended most games at the Ricoh that season. I feel at the moment it is difficult to commit time and money to a passion that the owners do not seem to share in. Decisions made by the powers that be seem to be taking the club backwards at a rate of knots which if not addressed may be irretrievable. We are allegedly a football club, put a decent package together on the pitch which shows sustainable success and attendance issues will improve dramatically, success on the pitch has to be the main focus if we are ever to get back to the heady heights of yesteryear. | 10/22/2014 1:42 AM |
| 29 | Whilst SISU, who by their own admission have no interest in football, effectively own the Club I regretably see no future for CCFC | 10/22/2014 1:32 AM |
| 30 | Don't live in Coventry area. | 10/22/2014 1:30 AM |

| 32 | Live in Jersey, When CCFC were playing in Coventry I have managed to get to one or two games a season. | 10/22/2014 12:31 AM |
| 33 | I shouldn't have to answer this question as I have been to all games but I am disappointed in the team at present | 10/22/2014 12:30 AM |
| 34 | I live in Manchester and struggle to get down to home matches as much as I would like. I have been to 3 away matches though. | 10/22/2014 12:22 AM |
| 35 | Does not apply | 10/22/2014 12:15 AM |
| 36 | Can't leave Q blank | 10/21/2014 11:16 PM |
| 37 | I rushed into buying a season ticket because we were back home. But I now realise I've got other things I enjoy doing on Saturdays. The year away and getting out of the habit has caused this. | 10/21/2014 10:51 PM |
| 38 | We have been away since 31st July and do not return until 3rd December when we will be looking forward to watching our team at the Ricoh once again. | 10/21/2014 9:46 PM |

| 47 | The fans feel disenfranchised, they have lost their pride and passion. The club has got a lot of work to do to get this back. Appeal to the whole skyblues community. Find success stories...reach out and embrace them! | 10/21/2014 2:59 PM |

| 54 | Tim Fisher said we wouldnt return to the Ricoh at the end of last season so I purchased a season ticket at Coventry Rugby Club | 10/21/2014 1:32 PM |
| 55 | ive had a season ticket since 1989/90 and because we were back at the ricoh after season had started there was no payment plan in place and with me having two kids and my partner i cant afford one off payment on season ticket | 10/21/2014 1:27 PM |
| 56 | The first three ticks are because of SISU and how they are running the club... | 10/21/2014 1:22 PM |

| 62 | I wrote to Steve Waggot on exactly this subject 3 days ago. The reason I didn't attend isn't on your list. The reason I went against Gillingham is to be part of a 25,000+ crowd. Once the mood music suggests there is going to be a bumper crowd, we all go. It's a self-fulfilling process! When the mood music suggests there's going to be 10,000, we don't go. Again, it's self-fulfilling. Part of the attraction is the atmosphere. My email to Mr Waggot was to encourage him to introduce a sliding -scale price policy. I accept it is probably completely unworkable, but, at this stage of the game, anything is worth trying. Here it is in a nutshell: Match 1 - £12-00 (£6-00 for Juniors). If this generates a 25,00+ crowd, the price rolls over to the next match. If the attendance for Match 1 is , let's say 15-20,000. Price goes up for Match 2 to eg £14 / £7. If the attendance for Match 2 is , let's say 10-15,000. Price goes up for Match 2 to eg £16 / £8. If attendance is below 10,000 - fine, prices will be somewhere close to where they are now. I, for one, would go every week if I could be part of the kind of atmosphere we experienced against Gillingham. I, for one, would accept the challenge that the Club would be throwing down to the fans. I believe 24,999 would do the same. I am yet to hear back from Mr Waggot. davidworrall06@aol.com | 10/21/2014 12:52 PM |
| 63 | the Ricoh is a pain to get to for me. | 10/21/2014 12:50 PM |
| 64 | I am being forced to check a box that doesn't apply to get past this question - very annoying. See Q 3 and ignore this one! | 10/21/2014 12:44 PM |
| 65 | I've attended all matches, the question does not apply. Some supporters are simply casual followers and will only attend 10-20% of games. We need a 200,000 fan catchment to have good attendances and that's really only possible in a Premier League environment for this club in this day and age. | 10/21/2014 12:34 PM |
| 66 | WHEN SISU START INVESTING I THE TEAM & GIVE THE MANAGER A CHANCE, THEN I WILL INVEST IN MY SEASON TICKET WHICH I HAVE HAD FOR OVER 30 YEARS | 10/21/2014 12:21 PM |

|----|---|---------------------|
| 67 | I live in Swansea and it costs me £100 and a 7 hour round trip to get to any home games. I love the fact we are home but cannot afford to travel more than once a month. | 10/21/2014 12:19 PM |
| 68 | I've attended all home games, so none of the above apply yet I must answer or I can't submit the survey. Or do you only want answers from the Fairweather's? | 10/21/2014 12:13 PM |
| 69 | I do go to matches. The survey won't save without me clicking an answer. | 10/21/2014 12:09 PM |
| 70 | Have actually been to 4 but prior commitments have meant I've missed 2 | 10/21/2014 12:09 PM |
| 71 | None of the above as I have attended all the matches but had to put an answer here so the questionnaire can be processed | 10/21/2014 12:07 PM |
| 72 | I've been to all the games | 10/21/2014 12:06 PM |
| 73 | I have been to all home games | 10/21/2014 12:01 PM |
| 74 | Question 4 requires that I choose an option even though my reason for not attending is not in the list. I live in Hampshire and other commitments and the cost prevent me from attending home games. | 10/21/2014 11:59 AM |
| 75 | This shouldn't require an answer see answer 3. Have attended more than 3 | 10/21/2014 11:52 AM |
| 76 | It's a 6 hour round trip and £40 in petrol for me to get to a home game | 10/21/2014 11:51 AM |
| 77 | If SISU made a full apology for their actions I would consider buying our family season tickets again, we have been holders for 40 + years! | 10/21/2014 11:50 AM |
| 78 | I split custody of my son every second weekend. Therefore missing out on games as my son is my priority. This is the same reason for not having a season ticket. I attend what I can, home or away. | 10/21/2014 11:48 AM |
| 79 | i live in london and have two small children, its difficult | 10/21/2014 11:46 AM |
| 80 | This question does not apply to me I have not and DO NOT expect to miss a game at the RICOH | 10/21/2014 11:40 AM |
| 81 | I go to away games instead - better atmosphere and more fun. | 10/21/2014 11:38 AM |
| 82 | For some reason this requires an answer though it doesn't apply. | 10/21/2014 11:37 AM |
| 83 | Iv attended 5 | 10/21/2014 11:36 AM |
| 84 | I live too far away from Coventry to attend home matches. | 10/21/2014 11:28 AM |
| 85 | Attended more please disregard my answer for question 4 it was the only way the survey could be completed | 10/21/2014 11:24 AM |
| 86 | No "cant be arsed" option? We all know that's the real reason | 10/21/2014 11:18 AM |
| 87 | I have been to 4 and only missed 2 because of an operation. | 10/21/2014 11:17 AM |
| 88 | As a season ticket holder i have now made a commitment and will go to as many games as i can. However, I dont understand the pricing strategy. The crowd at the ricoh is many times the shitfields gate, if sisu really want large crowds why dont they charge shitfields prices their revenue would be a million miles better than the budget they had based on a shitfields business plan | 10/21/2014 11:16 AM |
| 89 | This question does not require an answer if you've attended more than 3 matches! But the ticket prices are too high, including s/tickets. They should be no more than £20, £15 for s/ticket holders | 10/21/2014 11:15 AM |
| 90 | I do not live close the Coventry, and thus am normally unable to attend home games | 10/21/2014 11:15 AM |
| 91 | Poor survey. I have attended 5 out of 6 yet had to answer this question. | 10/21/2014 11:13 AM |
| 92 | Shouldn't require an answer as I've been to all six! | 10/21/2014 11:13 AM |
| 93 | Not going till sisu have gone free tickets only think the trust need to start a separlla out campaign | 10/21/2014 11:11 AM |
| 94 | I work late now Mon -Fri so cant justify being away from family every other Sat. | 10/21/2014 11:07 AM |
| 95 | This question does not need an answer check the survey before publishing had to put an answer even though I did not want to | 10/21/2014 11:03 AM |
| 96 | I went to all of the games. None of the options apply | 10/21/2014 11:03 AM |
| 97 | N/A | 10/21/2014 10:59 AM |

|-----|---|---------------------|
| 98 | I live 150 miles away and the transport costs are too high. | 10/21/2014 10:59 AM |
| 99 | The abomination that are our Owners Especially Mr Fisher I'm convinced gates would rise by 3,4even 5K,should he do the hohonourable thing This club will die under their tenure | 10/21/2014 10:54 AM |
| 100 | I've been to 5 games so not applicable. I think the attendances have been poor for a number of reasons: Still a strong anti SISU feeling and protest. Lack of squad investment Poor form by the team Price of tickets particularly when 2 home games back to back Difficulty in getting tickets pArticualry when there's no club shop at the Ricoh A lot of damage has been done by the move to Sixfields The Wasps takeover | 10/21/2014 10:53 AM |
| 101 | I'll not go again until SISU have gone and I've been a supporter since the late 60s and a season ticket holder in 4 decades. | 10/21/2014 10:53 AM |
| 102 | Other than being unavailable with work for the 1st two games back at the Ricoh, I live in London and am on a very low income - hence I attend matches when the opportunity arises but don't do so religiously. | 10/21/2014 10:51 AM |
| 103 | As I have attended more than 3 games why does the survey insist on an answer?? | 10/21/2014 10:50 AM |
| 104 | Live too far away | 10/21/2014 10:48 AM |
| 105 | I have not attended fewer than three games. Anyway, as this question requires an answer regardless, and I have to tick a box along with answering here (poorly thought out questionnaire guys, all your results become more and more invalid) the answer is that the entire shenanigans where there are zero good guys has put me off. Even those elected to serve us betray us. Where is the tick box to objecting to the conduct of CCC? This is a weighted questionnaire looking for certain answers. It does not stand up in the slightest. | 10/21/2014 10:47 AM |
| 106 | I have attended five games but this question requires an answer | 10/21/2014 10:47 AM |
| 107 | All games attended | 10/21/2014 10:47 AM |
| 108 | We live too far away, Liverpool to get to games easily..., no doubt if the team had been playing better we'd have been more often | 10/21/2014 10:45 AM |
| 109 | Not the only reason but one to consider. Getting to the Ricoh by car has always been difficult, and finding a parking place isn't easy. It involves a long walk usually, which I don't object to, but when the weather is grim it's off-putting and playing against the likes of Crawley lacks the magnetic draw and cachet of say....Wigan or Huddersfield ;) | 10/21/2014 10:45 AM |
| 110 | Both my father and son are season ticket holders but I work on Saturdays. | 10/21/2014 10:45 AM |
| 111 | I live too far away | 10/21/2014 10:44 AM |
| 112 | I live in Portugal, so very costly and time consuming to go to matches. I made an exception for the first match back at the Ricoh. | 10/21/2014 10:43 AM |
| 113 | I live in Wigan and if I lived locally i would go to all home games. I support the team through the good and the bad times. | 10/21/2014 10:43 AM |
| 114 | Have been to all six forced to make answer to this question | 10/21/2014 10:40 AM |
| 115 | Attended all 6 fix the question | 10/21/2014 10:39 AM |
| 116 | Too far away for regular visit - special occasions only | 10/21/2014 10:37 AM |
| 117 | No passion deserves no support a lot of the players are just picking up a wage thank god for the youngsters who are up and coming and showing the others how it should be done | 10/21/2014 10:36 AM |
| 118 | I started to find other things to do on Saturday afternoons when Coventry stopped playing at the Ricoh and have continued to enjoy those activities. I intend to attend some games but it has fallen down my list of priorities. | 10/21/2014 10:36 AM |
| 119 | I live in Cardiff and work most Saturdays. | 10/21/2014 10:36 AM |
| 120 | I have attended more than 3 home games. | 10/21/2014 10:32 AM |
| 121 | n/a. I have attended more than 3 games back at the Ricoh. And why is this question asking me to choose one of the above? None relate. | 10/21/2014 10:31 AM |
| 122 | It's just not affordable to take the family to every game, we go on special occasions only. | 10/21/2014 10:29 AM |

| 126 | NOPM, SISU OUT OUTOUT.hAD A SEASON TICKET FROM 1977 UNTIL RELEGATED FROM CHAMPIONSHIP AS SISU ALLOWED US TO BE RELEGATED,SOLD OUR BETTER PLAYERS,LIED ABOUT EVERYTHING AND ARE CHEATS.YOU ASKED AND I'VE TOLD YOU HOW I FEEL.BEEN GOING SINCE 1956 AND GAVE MY SHARES TO SISU. | 10/21/2014 8:24 AM |
| 127 | lol Being 76 years old I find the steps in the stadium too steep. I had a season ticket at Highfield Road and also the Ricoh until Coleman's last season as manager. I had two falls at the Ricoh coming down the steps and decided enough was enough. Wet to the Yeovil to see if I could find a decent area but the jury is still out on that one. | 10/21/2014 7:58 AM |
| 128 | I had a season ticket in season 2013/14 at Sixfields. I am a supporter not a fan and I support my local club, it's as simple as that! Coventry fans are fickle and will find any excuse not to support their local football club. If we got to the Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final at Wembley, their would suddenly be 50,000 fans saying they had supported the club for years! Most of the sporting public sit at home and watch TV or listen on the radio or find something else to do. They wait for something to happen before they turn up, not thinking that if they all turned up week in week out something would happen and we would have a successful club! This latest turn of events with the Council hawking off the Ricoh to carpet bagging Wasps, proves that the main culprit in this Ricoh debacle was and is the Coventry Council. The SBT have been barking up the wrong tree all this time and never once campaigned against the Council. In effect it was supporting the Council and has given the Council moral support to deny a sale to the football club and ultimately, justify flogging the Ricoh off to franchise London Wasps! Wake up Sky Blue Trust and remove the Pinko glasses from your eyes. If you did, I might even join you! | 10/21/2014 7:47 AM |

Q5 As you know, 50% of the shares in Arena Coventry Limited (ACL) have been sold to Wasps Rugby Club. The shares in ACL currently owned by the Higgs Charity are now to be sold. Should CCFC attempt to purchase those shares?

| 1 | Absolutely yes! I really hope that Wasps and CCFC can forge a strong partnership together. | 10/28/2014 6:28 AM |
| 2 | It makes sense to do so. But then again I don't want sisu here at all | 10/27/2014 7:18 AM |
| 3 | If that actually means we can own half of ACL then it's a no-brainer, the question is whether it does. | 10/27/2014 6:34 AM |
| 4 | If the club had a different owner then my answer would be YES. However SISU are not to be trusted. | 10/27/2014 5:31 AM |
| 5 | But tie in the Ricoh share with the club so that neither can be sold separately. | 10/26/2014 12:36 PM |
| 6 | I've never been a fan of SISU but I don't think the Council have helped the club and its supporters by selling to Wasps, who have no connection with the city. The benefits of the stadium and its facilities were always intended for CCFC. The club do need the revenue from their own stadium, so 50% is better than nothing. I think I'm like most supporters in that I don't like the Ricoh, so if the club can build a new (smaller) stadium and sell Wasps (who are only mercenaries anyway) the remaining 50% at a profit, then the club can benefit, especially as it was money used from selling Highfield Road (RIP) that helped secure the land for the Ricoh. I don't actually know who I dislike the most out of the Council, SISU or Wasps. PUSB | 10/23/2014 3:18 PM |

| 7 | I don't want the current owners of CCFC to have any stake in ACL. When the ownership of Coventry City changes in the near future then obviously I would check the new owners' behaviour over a reasonable period of time and re-assess my position Hopefully, I would then go back to attending home matches and buy a season ticket again. | 10/23/2014 1:42 PM |
| 8 | Once again it shows the lack of ambition by CCFC by not bidding for the remaining shares. | 10/23/2014 10:37 AM |
| 9 | There is no point if our long term future is away from the Ricoh. It's back to uncertainty again | 10/23/2014 3:30 AM |
| 10 | I say 'yes' with the big reservation that the club has forfeited any grounds for trust in their integrity and good-will. But if the economics mean they need access to an income-stream, then it would make sense and put the lid on 'building a new ground'. | 10/23/2014 2:05 AM |
| 11 | Whilst I have been to 3 games I have not enjoyed them with exception of Gillingham. I've been disappointed with the attendances but im afraid the quality of the team is very poor and, as warned, SISU's actions in moving us has caused further loss of support | 10/23/2014 2:01 AM |
| 12 | But not under the current ownership | 10/22/2014 3:19 PM |
| 13 | Not entirely sure how to answer this one. I want ccfc to own and play at the ricoh. I'm not sure I want SISU to own anything | 10/22/2014 2:55 PM |
| 14 | If CCFC can afford this investment; then yes. This could be a business model that works as a ground share if that's what the idea is?. Someone might just be interested. Thanks for reading and regards Wayne Andrews wga.andrews@icloud.com | 10/22/2014 2:20 PM |
| 15 | Long term stability is particularly important in enthusiasing me to attend. | 10/22/2014 12:56 PM |
| 16 | I understand that the club need all match day revenue but there doesn't seem to be any plans to build a new stadium so a half share in the Ricoh would be the next best thing, i doubt however that Wasps would want to work with them | 10/22/2014 12:15 PM |
| 17 | Obviously - owning half the holding company means half of the overall profits and a chance to negotiate for all CCFC related revenues. | 10/22/2014 12:05 PM |
| 18 | Not while Sisu are in charge | 10/22/2014 11:54 AM |
| 19 | I think a successful wasp team and ccfc could work very well for both parties. Plus I don't understand what extra revenues a new much smaller stadium would bring ccfc which is what sisu say they want | 10/22/2014 11:13 AM |
| 20 | But they wont | 10/22/2014 10:09 AM |
| 21 | I don't want SISU owning any part of the stadium | 10/22/2014 9:52 AM |
| 22 | Club would be in a more advantageous position if they did buy. Can't believe that they are going to build their own stadium so 50% of the stadium is better than nothing at all. | 10/22/2014 9:38 AM |
| 23 | I would be in favour of CCFC buying anything up to 100% of the shares under owners who could be trusted to put primacy on the well-being of the club, its supporters and the local community. I do not want the current owners to have any shares in the Ricoh. | 10/22/2014 8:24 AM |
| 24 | I think that Ccfc should bid for the 50 per cent share that is on offer, but I do not trust Sisu to use it to the advantage of the football club,the team and the supporters. Hopefully the owner of Wasps has the foresight and ambition for the Ricoh with Rugby and Football similar to the new billionaire owner of Bristol Rugby and Bristol City FC. I would prefer him to buy out Sisu and have 100 per cent control of events. | 10/22/2014 8:12 AM |
| 25 | The Football Club not sure where the money would come from but not SISU | 10/22/2014 6:45 AM |
| 26 | Not bothered | 10/22/2014 6:31 AM |
| 27 | We can't let some of the ownership of The Ricoh just slip away. We never owned the arena before, but it felt like it was ours. It was built for Coventry City FC and wouldn't have been considered otherwise. Now, a rugby club, originally from London has been allowed to gain control of our beloved Ricoh Arena. Disgraceful and will never be accepted by City supporters, quite rightfully. | 10/22/2014 5:29 AM |
| 28 | sisu out | 10/22/2014 5:21 AM |
| 29 | I think staying at the ricoh is our only option right now ,and this is the only way to generate more income. Or perhaps Cov rugby club should ground share with Wasps and we develop the Butts arena ! | 10/22/2014 5:02 AM |

|----|---|---------------------|
| 30 | I honestly don't know who CCFC are anymore and am bored by the whole thing. Equally I am confused at the uproar surrounding the stadium purchase by Wasps. SISU have had years to buy the stadium and have made no proper attempt to do so. Clearly they have no long term plan to be involved and so the question of them buying shares is laughable. | 10/22/2014 4:22 AM |
| 31 | However should have done this years ago. | 10/22/2014 4:13 AM |
| 32 | The fans should buy them through the Sky Blue Trust | 10/22/2014 3:19 AM |
| 33 | We need some new blood in the club. | 10/22/2014 3:09 AM |
| 34 | The stadium must not fall into the clutches of SISU! | 10/22/2014 3:04 AM |
| 35 | Of course they should when Wasps realise how wrong they are we would then get chance to own 100% then they can sell up and piss off | 10/22/2014 2:57 AM |
| 36 | The Wasps should never have been offered any shares without first the council & acl offering them to CCFC #ANGRYSKYBLUEFAN | 10/22/2014 2:51 AM |
| 37 | SISU have never invested in the team but only dumbed down the players quality and I feel they would only be interested in the stadium as a way gain a one time profit from selling it in the future | 10/22/2014 2:35 AM |
| 38 | Not as long as SISU are owners | 10/22/2014 2:06 AM |
| 39 | too little too late and unlikely to be successful especially after the toxic relationship the club has created with the stadium owners. Entirely their own fault if the club miss out - it did not have to be this way! | 10/22/2014 2:02 AM |
| 40 | If Sisu have any chance of trying to pull the club and the community together the 2.7 million investment to purchase that share are vital. General feeling seems to be that we do not want or need a new stadium built , we just want to play in Coventry in a stadium which was built as our home. Wasps manage to do a deal for a 250 year lease in a few months of discussions, Sisu could be left with nothing or more debt after many years of court cases and very poor decisions. Time to build some bridges, they may then have something to sell and move on which would also be a positive. | 10/22/2014 1:42 AM |
| 41 | The Ricoh was built for CCFC, the Charity helped us in our hour of need by buying the Clubs share. The charity should sell it's share to the club or hang onto 50% of the Ricoh/ACL if it doesn't think SISU are fit owners. The charity should not let an 'out of town Rugby franchise' own 100% of a venue that was built to benefit CCFC. I don't blame the charity for wanting to sell, but it will hurt CCFC in the long term. | 10/22/2014 1:14 AM |
| 42 | Not if they do not show any more interest in the club. Perhaps selling the club to someone who will care - if there is someone like that about!! | 10/22/2014 1:11 AM |
| 43 | Yes because if they decide to sell the club at least they have something to sell | 10/22/2014 12:59 AM |
| 44 | Wasps and CCFC could work together in a true partnership | 10/22/2014 12:51 AM |
| 45 | I believe that working together with the Wasps Rugby club could be beneficial for both parties. Would generate more income streams and they could combine their expertise. (whether SISU have any, is another question) | 10/22/2014 12:31 AM |
| 46 | At least with 50% they will have a say in the stadium running and be able to have an input into ideas and taking the club forward instead of still remaining a tenant only. | 10/22/2014 12:22 AM |
| 47 | To SISU are you joking!! | 10/22/2014 12:17 AM |
| 48 | Such is my objection to SISU, I would prefer the club didn't purchase those shares under their tenure. | 10/21/2014 11:14 PM |
| 49 | let wasps buy out sisu. We need sisu out even if it means wasps owning us or relegation to FL2, otherwise we will never have investment in the team. | 10/21/2014 11:05 PM |
| 50 | It's the only viable option. | 10/21/2014 10:51 PM |
| 51 | But I don't think it will happen! | 10/21/2014 9:46 PM |
| 52 | But are we going to have a new ground built or not !. | 10/21/2014 6:10 PM |
| 53 | 50% would be better than nothing and would show if sisu had good intentions or not | 10/21/2014 3:41 PM |
| 54 | CCFC in the future, but no not if being purchased by SISU. | 10/21/2014 3:34 PM |
| 55 | Keep SISU well away from any sort of ownership. | 10/21/2014 3:33 PM |

| | | |
|----|--|---------------------|
| 56 | If we are to ground-share with a Rugby club then we should have our own stake in the Ricoh. If not then we are looking at SISU/OTIUM's new stadium in 'the Coventry area'. | 10/21/2014 3:22 PM |
| 57 | Because CCFC is SISU | 10/21/2014 3:16 PM |
| 58 | Work with all partners to broaden the base of support and patronage. The ground, the atmosphere and sense of belonging has to be brought back | 10/21/2014 2:59 PM |
| 59 | Work with all partners to broaden the base of support and patronage. The ground, the atmosphere and sense of belonging has to be brought back | 10/21/2014 2:59 PM |
| 60 | No one knows what may develop in the future regarding Wasp's , therefore it is important to hold a stake now that can perhaps be added to. The shares will always have a value. | 10/21/2014 2:57 PM |
| 61 | No because I want Sisu out. | 10/21/2014 2:51 PM |
| 62 | They should sell CCFC. I am sure that Gary Hoffman could put together a fans collective along the lines of a German club and proposed by the national Labour party | 10/21/2014 2:50 PM |
| 63 | Spend the money on the team instead | 10/21/2014 2:48 PM |
| 64 | If CCFC dont secure these shares I will assume that CCFC are pulling out of coventry maybe to London? | 10/21/2014 2:37 PM |
| 65 | Yes if they wish to improve the financial future of the club. If they only have match day ticket sales they will never be able to improve the clubs future. | 10/21/2014 2:25 PM |
| 66 | It is vital that we obtain a share in the Ricoh. Wasps, unlike Higgs do not care what happens to CCFC. | 10/21/2014 1:46 PM |
| 67 | SISU have ruined our club. CCFC is synonymous with SISU so I have no longer any respect for CCFC for the first time in 40 years. Anyone but CCFC should purchase the shares . | 10/21/2014 1:39 PM |
| 68 | Or wasps should take us over as well | 10/21/2014 1:38 PM |
| 69 | not sure who is worse | 10/21/2014 1:32 PM |
| 70 | SISU not fit to own anything in our City. With new owners the answer would be yes | 10/21/2014 1:32 PM |
| 71 | Won't happen though and even if did now would make SISU Look desperate! | 10/21/2014 1:22 PM |
| 72 | Difficult one as fully understand you need to own your own stadium in your own city to generate funds. Think the council should actually allow SISU to build a new stadium in the COVENTRY boundaries since it was their decision to sell to wasps if that's what SISU's intentions still are. Also think maybe a deal with wasps could be a realistic option. | 10/21/2014 1:19 PM |
| 73 | If not feasible, perhaps a merger between Wasps & CCFC would secure futures for both clubs. | 10/21/2014 1:13 PM |
| 74 | They couldant pay the rent first time around, and should never be trusted, | 10/21/2014 1:10 PM |
| 75 | Yes they should, I am absolutely disgusted that the council have sold out to a London team rather than the football club, it's disgraceful and there is no excuse. | 10/21/2014 1:09 PM |
| 76 | I'm not a fan of SISU but if owning these shares stops them building a new stadium then I think they should buy them. | 10/21/2014 12:53 PM |
| 77 | Yes, but if vetoed build elsewhere. No harm in two stadia in a City our size. Lots of sustainable examples. No one moans about more than one Supermarket, Cinema or Cathedral. Maybe even build with a view to inviting Summer Sports, CCFC Ladies, even Cov Rugby in. (Selling off The Butts would be a big property boost for Cov RFC given it's location). | 10/21/2014 12:34 PM |
| 78 | I do not wish to see SISU have the opportunity to buy any part of the arena as they have shown in their actions since taking over the club that they are morally bankrupt. The demise of the club in footballing terms is also the responsibility of SISU. | 10/21/2014 12:33 PM |
| 79 | Although understand this is easier said than done | 10/21/2014 12:27 PM |
| 80 | Not if it still involves any think to do with sisu | 10/21/2014 12:23 PM |
| 81 | ccfc owned by someone other than sisu should but sisu should disappear | 10/21/2014 12:22 PM |
| 82 | SISU out | 10/21/2014 12:15 PM |
| 83 | But at MARKET VALUE ! No more stupid petty games and court cases/legal action | 10/21/2014 12:14 PM |

| | | |
|-----|---|---------------------|
| 84 | I am furious with the behaviour of the council. Why does it appear that the Trust couldn't care less? | 10/21/2014 12:13 PM |
| 85 | Unsure, keen to see change of ownership and don't know of this would help Sisu move on | 10/21/2014 12:09 PM |
| 86 | Sisu should sell up. They have lost their gambit of getting the stadium for nothing. | 10/21/2014 12:08 PM |
| 87 | There are so many scenarios of what's best for ccfc, I'm not sure what to want, people say it would be better without Sisu, but there doesn't seem to be a lot else on offer and perhaps if the club did own part of the ricoh it would help in any future sale. | 10/21/2014 12:06 PM |
| 88 | Ultimately the stadium was built for CCFC and in an ideal world should be owned by CCFC. Anything that can be done to combine both the stadium and CCFC should be attempted | 10/21/2014 11:59 AM |
| 89 | I cannot understand why CCFC didn't purchase the first 50%. To attempt to purchase the remaining 50% makes no sense. | 10/21/2014 11:59 AM |
| 90 | Not to SISU. Let them build their new stadium or go. I would not trust them to own any part of ACL | 10/21/2014 11:58 AM |
| 91 | Let the professionals run the stadium. | 10/21/2014 11:54 AM |
| 92 | But can they be trusted to be honest, transparent and fair? Looking at their record can you imagine that Wasps would want to have CCFC/Sisu as a joint partner? They have missed their opportunity to own a significant share in the Ricoh by employing bully boy tactics. | 10/21/2014 11:50 AM |
| 93 | Clearly the club would benefit from owning a share of the stadium, but I wouldn't trust SISU with it! | 10/21/2014 11:46 AM |
| 94 | Building own stadium is pie in sky, this is the only way for them to progress | 10/21/2014 11:37 AM |
| 95 | Don't want sisu owning any part of it. | 10/21/2014 11:37 AM |
| 96 | Even if they did... The council would veto it which I think is the correct thing today... Our owners should have nothing to do with the stadium now, they've burnt many bridges | 10/21/2014 11:36 AM |
| 97 | we as supporters should have a say in the running of the club, we should have a member at board room meetings, As we said on both marches. | 10/21/2014 11:35 AM |
| 98 | Hope Wasps get 100%. Owners of CCFC should get on with building a new stadium. Ho ho ho ho ho. | 10/21/2014 11:35 AM |
| 99 | The option to buy rests with the liquidator who was hand chosen by SISU-there is no good reason not to make an attempt. | 10/21/2014 11:28 AM |
| 100 | SISU should be let nowhere near owning the stadium | 10/21/2014 11:25 AM |
| 101 | Not whilst SISU own C.C.F.C. | 10/21/2014 11:21 AM |
| 102 | Not if CCFC = SISU | 10/21/2014 11:21 AM |
| 103 | It would only lead to an antagonistic relationship with Wasps - who, I believe, have purchased the right to veto the sale in any case - CCFC have been vocal about their ambitions to build a new stadium - if that is true then they should concentrate on that and leave the Wasps to take the Ricoh forward. | 10/21/2014 11:18 AM |
| 104 | A share in a ground is better than straight tenancy - 50% of all revenues should be sufficient for a top championship club . | 10/21/2014 11:17 AM |
| 105 | But they won't because they are property developers/ asset strippers who need control to develop the land to suit themselves rather than the football club | 10/21/2014 11:16 AM |
| 106 | In reality I'm unsure - shared ownership between 2 users could make life easier or more difficult for both - it depends on how well they can work together (current CCFC owners do not have a good track record of working well in partnership) | 10/21/2014 11:15 AM |
| 107 | As long as CCFC is in no way linked to SISU | 10/21/2014 11:13 AM |
| 108 | but they probably won't | 10/21/2014 11:13 AM |
| 109 | If SISU are not owners | 10/21/2014 11:13 AM |
| 110 | No to sisu | 10/21/2014 11:11 AM |
| 111 | so long as sisu are not the owners | 10/21/2014 11:10 AM |
| 112 | Unless of course they are any nearer building their new stadium. | 10/21/2014 11:03 AM |

| | | |
|-----|---|---------------------|
| 113 | They would be stupid not to they will not build a stadium for less | 10/21/2014 11:03 AM |
| 114 | And then sell and leave asap SISU OUT | 10/21/2014 11:01 AM |
| 115 | Half share if the stadium and ACL might be enough | 10/21/2014 11:00 AM |
| 116 | I feel very dejected for the future of our club. I believe the current owners have been gambling with the future of the football club in a game of brinkmanship which they look like losing. They have had 7 years to negotiate a reasonable deal for the Ricoh but they have not been reasonable in their actions. With the prospect of no revenue on non-match days I fear that we are destined at best to remain in the lower reaches of the football league and fighting for the survival of the football club. I do not see a bright future for CCFC and am very, very weary and despondent of the whole situation. | 10/21/2014 10:59 AM |
| 117 | I believe they need to walk away from ccfc. If they got half the Ricoh then this would just drag on an on. We now need new owners and a new ground, the Ricoh is now the wasps in my view | 10/21/2014 10:55 AM |
| 118 | SISU owning any of the Ricoh will not benefit the club and especially not this City The CCC have duty to guarantee the success of the development Wasps represent true Elite brand That is what the place was built for Under these Custodians there has never been any serious attempt to achieve that goal The whole development is reliant on this as recognised in the cCCC pre construction report. | 10/21/2014 10:54 AM |
| 119 | If CCFC were not owned by SISU then I would say definitely yes. As they do, I really don't want SISU to own The Ricoh as I don't trust them at all. I'm really struggling with tho question as I know it would be better for CCFC if they owned at least half of The Ricoh but not under the ownership of SISU. | 10/21/2014 10:53 AM |
| 120 | I think this will be last chance ccfc have to own a percentage of the arena, unfortunately, the current owners being Sisu, any asset that the club has will always be used to service the dept run up by Sisu's ineptitude. | 10/21/2014 10:53 AM |
| 121 | No absolutely not, I don't trust SISU as far as I could throw them. They been completely outmaneuvered by Coventry Council & quite rightly so. | 10/21/2014 10:53 AM |
| 122 | SISU have had 7 years to buy the Ricoh and the way they have acted they don't deserve the 50% of the ground. They should do what they claim and build a new stadium. | 10/21/2014 10:53 AM |
| 123 | The Ricoh was purpose built for CCFC, and plans for a bigger and better stadium (than Highfield Road) date back at least to 1972 (see the Coventry Evening Telegraph article "Super-Stadium: Sky Blues' £1m vision of the future" 19/12/72). Wasps RC have shown that deal could be done (with CC) and the Higgs Trust has always maintained that their shares could be bought out by CCFC. It seems that Wasps have shown that a deal can be done, if the buyer is prepared to pay the market price. I understand that Higgs may be reluctant to re-enter negotiations with CCFC (following CCFC's refusal to pay an agreed sum of compensation in the event of the sale of shares not being completed, and CCFC subsequently bringing a court case against Higgs) - but the onus lies on CCFC's owners to reassure Higgs of their genuine intentions. Were CCFC to make a serious attempt to purchase the Higgs shares in ACL now, I believe it would be a significant step towards CCFC's long-term future at the Ricoh. | 10/21/2014 10:51 AM |
| 124 | But only if SISU intend to invest money in the team and stay for the long term ... I doubt both | 10/21/2014 10:51 AM |
| 125 | This is because the current owners have constantly demonstrated that their focus is not on the well-being of the football club but primarily gaining ownership of the Arena complex at the cost of any other party involved. Ownership of just 50% of ACL will only bring about similar conflict with the other party, similar to that we have seen for the past few years. I believe that this will continue to distress football club to the detriment of all supporters. | 10/21/2014 10:50 AM |
| 126 | No Sisu involvement is the only answer to the club's sucess | 10/21/2014 10:48 AM |
| 127 | Firstly, it'sd media manipulation to even think those shares are on offer, in order to make a horrendous destructive deal for the city and for fair play appear reasonable. Secondly, I want no collusion with a franchise full-stop. My support for CCFC stops the moment that happens. | 10/21/2014 10:47 AM |
| 128 | I say no because I really, really want to see if SISU have any intention of building the new stadium they say is on the cards. I am hoping that a 'no ground at all' option (if Wasps buy the remaining shares) will be the reason SISU pulls the plug and sells up. It's a gamble but I think the club is quickly becoming a millstone round the SISU neck and they don't really want the expenditure of a new ground. (They aimed to get the Ricoh.) I hope I am right. I know that would put the CCFC we love in a precarious position but I think we need to be rid of SISU and start to build with a clean sheet and new, football-loving owners with a real interest in Coventry and the fans. | 10/21/2014 10:45 AM |
| 129 | If they don't I can't see how they can sell the club. They will not invest in the team and this is being shown in the teams performance. Poorest playing staff in the 40 years of supporting the club. | 10/21/2014 10:45 AM |

|-----|--|---------------------|
| 130 | Ideally yes, but I doubt very much whether it's a realistic option for SISU, given their record. . | 10/21/2014 10:43 AM |
| 131 | Ricoh is too large | 10/21/2014 10:43 AM |
| 132 | It's a horrible idea that SISU should have any control & it's important to recognise that although it's desirable that CCFC have shares in ACL & the Ricoh, it's wholly unacceptable that that happens via the current owners SISU. | 10/21/2014 10:42 AM |
| 133 | I don't care what they do tbh | 10/21/2014 10:41 AM |
| 134 | Joint ownership and profit sharing is preferable. The alternative is that CCFC will have to build its own ground to get 365 days' access to funding development. | 10/21/2014 10:40 AM |
| 135 | Imperative the club get a stake in the ground | 10/21/2014 10:39 AM |
| 136 | All attempts must be made to acquire the 50% share | 10/21/2014 10:39 AM |
| 137 | The current owners deserve nothing and I have no trust or faith in them | 10/21/2014 10:36 AM |
| 138 | The present owners of our football club are unworthy of owning it!! | 10/21/2014 10:32 AM |
| 139 | Was ridiculous to not own it in the first place We have the chance to own half of it now..... Buy it | 10/21/2014 10:31 AM |
| 140 | The Council did quite well if you take into account the large land deal that they secured with Tesco, according to Paul Fletchers book. I think Bryan Richardson paid himself a big bonus based on the sale of land to Tesco? This money then went to the council. | 10/21/2014 10:28 AM |
| 141 | If not City must move to construct another ground in the city. | 10/21/2014 10:25 AM |
| 142 | With the lack of information regarding the future of the club I do not have an opinion either way at the moment. | 10/21/2014 8:48 AM |
| 143 | Sisu should go away as far as possible before they do anymore damage to MY football club. My opinion is they are not fit and proper owners. They have only ever had one intention in mind and that was to get their dirty little FISHER/SEPPELA hands on the ricoh. No better than "carpetbaggers" | 10/21/2014 8:37 AM |
| 144 | NOPM, SISU OUT OUT OUT | 10/21/2014 8:24 AM |
| 145 | Buy the shares and still build their own stadium double WHAMY !! | 10/21/2014 7:58 AM |
| 146 | In the 1990s it was the ambition of the club to build a new stadium with associated commercial activities to enable the club to compete with the big clubs in the Premiership. The Arena 2000 as it was then called was the club's idea and plan. The Ricoh was built for the football club and the club should have had ownership from day one. The club has been shafted by the greedy and short sighted Coventry Council. The club should definitely buy the Higgs Charity's 50% share, because the football ground should belong to the football club! I hope that somehow the club can ultimately own all of the Ricoh. It rightfully should belong to the Sky Blues. I will not darken the turnstiles of London Wasps and I hope their franchise operation goes bust, enabling the "City" to buy Wasps' share. Wasps can buzz off! | 10/21/2014 7:47 AM |
| 147 | Well if they are willing to spend about 30 million on a new stadium. Why don't they give the higs 10million sp 10million on players and keep 10 million for them self's . Plus it will give sisu singing to sell so more chance of them going. | 10/21/2014 7:45 AM |
| 148 | buy new players and invest in the playing section | 10/21/2014 7:43 AM |
| 149 | There can only be one owner. SISU have lost the opportunity to be the owners. They had 7 years to buy the stadium, instead they chose to use the courts to attack the old owners. I have no sympathy for them. One day they will go and the club will recover. | 10/21/2014 7:40 AM |
| 150 | The club could work with the Wasps and 50% is still cheaper than building our own stadium. | 10/21/2014 7:17 AM |
| 151 | Not whilst connected to SISU | 10/21/2014 7:06 AM |
| 152 | Should have attempted to get the deal Wasps did for the other 50% as well. Bargain deal. | 10/21/2014 6:41 AM |
| 153 | Susie should sell CCFC then Attendances will double at least | 10/21/2014 6:35 AM |
| 154 | Not whilst SISU own the Club | 10/21/2014 6:25 AM |
| 155 | I don't know that they can so its a hypothetical question. I don't trust the current owners so I given a No answer. if we had more trustworthy owners the answer would be yes. | 10/21/2014 5:57 AM |
